A speaker, facilitator, teacher, and consummate entrepreneur, Jim Coyle utilizes a dynamic and passionate approach to help organizations appreciate the difference between surviving and thriving. His engaging and action-oriented content is built specifically for business and non-profit leaders. Seminar and workshop participants will:

- Understand the six keys to building a truly great organization
- See how a simple tool can get everyone's energy moving in the same direction
- Discover the characteristics of a great team member
- Learn how to implement discipline and accountability into all levels of their organization

Using real life examples and an energetic passion for business solutions, Jim introduces participants to a holistic system consisting of a simple set of tools used by thousands of leadership teams. One of only a few implementers worldwide certified in Entrepreneurial Operating System model, Jim is a wealth of business knowledge with unique insights and tips for developing and fortifying a successful organization. Participants will leave with a renewed sense of hope, a new way to look at their approach to leadership, and the drive to obtain the level of success their organization was created to attain.

Call Jim today to talk about your vision for your next event. Real. Simple. Results.
